EXPERIMENT MADE TODAY

The Wireless Telegraph Will Work.

A MARVEL MAY BE SEEN

Privilege of Sending the First Message Will be Sold at Half-past Two.

Just about the latest wonder accomplished by science is telegraphing without wires, communicating between far distant and mutually invisible points by means of the ether which is believed to exist as a sort of cement holding the molecules of the atmosphere together. Today Hawaiians will be given their first opportunity of witnessing the workings of this marvel—the marvel by which a young Italian boy named Marconi astonished the world a few years ago.

The experiments with the new system will take place at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Capitol building. From there a message will be flashed through space to the station which has been established at Kaimuki, a distance of four miles or more. The instruments at the Capitol building are to be set up temporarily on one of the structures used for the inaugural ceremonies in front of the Capitol. This will give the public a chance to see the full workings of the system as far as they are understood by their operators, or perhaps by the inventor himself. The sending of the message will be largely for the purpose of testing the instruments to see how they will work after their long trip from England to Hawaii. The experts in charge will be Mr. Bowden, W. E. Hobbs and F. J. Cross, manager of the Inter-Island Telegraph Company.

One of the features of the ceremonies this afternoon will be the sale at 2 o'clock, at public auction, by Will E. Fisher, the auctioneer, of the privilege of sending the first message from Island to Island when the instruments on Molokai are set up and in working order. This sale in itself will be of sufficient interest to draw a goodly crowd, for Col. Fisher intends to make it lively, and the bidding is sure to be spirited. The proceeds of the sale will be devoted, with the $50 paid by Col. Fisher for the privilege of acting as auctioneer, to any charity designated by the successful bidder.

Hawaii is fortunate in securing a wireless telegraphy system, when that system is in such comparative infancy. On but one notable occasion has the wireless telegraphy system been used in the races for the America's cup off New York harbor last fall. Its practical benefit to the Islands will be incalculable. For years the necessity of telegraphic communication among the Islands has been realized, and on several occasions cables have been talked of. Several years ago a company was organized to lay a cable, and one length was put down, but it did not prove a success and was abandoned.

But now with the wireless telegraphy system from Island to Island of the group, it will be possible, and that, too, in the near future, to communicate in a few moments with Hilo or any port on Maui, Molokai or Kauai, without the tedious delays of the days when the Islands steamers were the only means of communication.

SALE OF FINE OLD FURNITURE

Property of Seaborn Luce To Be Disposed of at Public Auction.

An auction sale of considerable interest will take place at the Seaborn Luce residence in the near future at which much furniture of value and of historical interest will be disposed of. Among the property that will be sold is a complete bedroom set which formerly was in the possession of King Kalakaua.

A set of Hutchinson's famous plaster casts will also be let go. For these Mr. Luce was once offered more than $50 each. An old fashioned loom, several bronze statues, oil paintings, ebony, mahogany and silk embroidered furniture will be among the other things which will be offered for sale.

Mr. Luce has leased his residence to the United States Government to be used as a hospital, and will move to a smaller residence. He has been in the auction business for some time.

WELL MANAGED INSTITUTION.

Malulani Hospital Pays for Itself and Has a Balance Left Over.

The report of Sister Bonaventure, superintendent of Malulani hospital, Wailuku, shows that the institution is self sustaining. The report for the month of May shows a balance to the good of $495.80, making the sum of $2,386.45. Sixty patients were in the hospital during May, twenty-seven ward paying, two private paying, nine non-paying and twenty-two plantation hands. Twenty-eight patients were discharged, and five died.

There were in the institution six Hawaiians, three Europeans, three Chinese, forty-five Japanese and three others.

In August of last year when the appropriation ran short the Executive Council ordered the hospital to be allowed to use its current receipts to defray running expenses. The balance in the treasury is due to the pursuance of this method of financing the institution.

A SPRAINED ANKLE QUICKLY CURED.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended remedies without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed. For sale by Berson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents."
